Supreme Court Will Pass Upon Question of Interest to the City.

When City Attorney Dining takes as of A. G. Gianque against Sait Lake City was decided against the city by ludge Morse, Wednesday, the question of he right of a person to secure title t a portion of a street in the city by ad-erse possession will be finally settled This point is a very important one, as there are a great many instances where people have set their fences out on the sidewalk and encreached upon the street and after holding the property for the stantory time claim the title by adverse and siter colons the property statutory time claim the title by selverse possession.

When it was sitempted by the city to lay the sidewalk in front of Mr. Glauque's premises, at 48 and 452 West Sixth South street, it was found by the survey that his fence was out six feat beyond his property line and on the street. He had a row of line trees just inside his fence, which were also claimed by the city to be on city property. In order to lay the sidewalk it would have been necessary to remove the fence and cut down the trees.

In order to prevent this, Mr. Glauque flee in injunction soil against the city and the sidewalk contractor, and claimed that the fence had been maintained in its present place for thirty years past and that he was entitled to the six-footstrip. Judge Morse decided the case in his favor and connequently the sidewalk was laid in front of all the other property on the block excepting that of Mr. Glauque.

It is contended by the city afforms that a person cannot obtain title to a portion of the street by adverse possession and he intends to put that question up to the supreme court to decide.

> Officers Find Escaped Prisoner From Detention Home Only After Long Search.

In a desperate effort to prevent her fourteen-year-old son from being taken hack to the detention home, from which he escaped Sunday. Mrs. Hannah Edwards strongly harricaded herself and the key in her home at 20 Fear street. Thursday, and defied the luvenile court officials for several hours. While the efficers were trying to gain entrance to the house. Mrs. Edwards was busy secreting the lad between the laths and the outside wall in the attic of the house, and after the officers finally got into the house they had a long search before they found the hiding place of the youngster. After all kinds of strategy and threats had been employed, the woman told where her son was secreted and he was taken back to the detention home.

Sunday young Edwards and several other hoys in the detention home were given permission to go for a walk. Educed McMaster of the juvenile court Pragon. Utals.

Similar young Edwards and several other hoys in the detention home were given permission to go for a walk. Edwards and another lad about his age did not return and had been ulissing ever since. Wednesday the mother of the ollier boy took him back to the juvenile court, and it was then learned that young Edwards had also gone home.

Officers on Trail.

ON A WARRANT sworn to by his wife, charging him with failure to provide for his minor children, E. M. Churchill was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Hilton Thursday afternoon and taken to the county jail. Probation Officers (hardello Brownd C. S. Sperty at once went to the dwards home, but apparently there was o one there. They returned Thursda and C. S. Sperry at once went to the Edwards home, but apparently there was no one there. They returned Thursday morning and again found the house locked and apparently unoccupied. They knocked and hammered on both the front and back doors but received no response. They then tried all the windows, but found them securely fastened down. Finally a window was removed from the kitchen, and the officers entered the house, only to find that the door loading into the remainder of the house also was locked.

The officers repeated their knocking and made every effort to open the door, but got no response from within. Officer Brown them declared in a loud voice that the only way to get in was to break the door down. This immediately brought an answer from Mrs. Edwards, who implored them not to break the door, as she would let them in. The woman declared emphatically that her son was not in the house at all, and gave the officers permission to make a thorough search. JOSEPH YOUNG was arrested by Shariff Sharp and Deputy Sheriff Corless Thursday afternoon and taken to the county jail on the charge of embezzle-ment. Young is charged with embezzling $15 from its employers.

Search of House Begun.

Every room in the house was searched and the officers even went into the cellar and searched every available place, but no boy was found. They then decided to try the attic. Mrs. Edwards accompanied them and they were again unsuccessful in their efforts. Finally Officer Sperry suggested that they pull off some of the laths, as he might be behind them. Mrs. Edwards then decided that she had better reveal the boy's hiding place, so she told them that she wall and pulled off a few laths, and the lad stepped out.

The officers were stunned at the ingenuity of the woman in trying to secrete her son, but soon recovered and took the loy back to the detention home, where he will be watched closer in the future. He has run away from the home on sevents
